

Your freedom to be who you are is respected here. Your sexual orientation, gender identity, race, religion, national origin, and physical capabilities are all parts of who you are, and your freedom to be an individual will be respected by the bearer of this symbol.